

Assisted Living Facilities-Greater Kalamazoo Area

"Assisted Living" is used as a marketing term in Michigan. Because the term is not legally defined in Michigan, any operation, regardless of the services they may or may not provide, may call themselves an "Assisted Living Facility", "Assisted Living Complex", or any other use of those terms. In addition, some facilities, licensed and unlicensed, use the terms "assisted living" or "assistive living" to designate a specific level of care provided within the facility.

Licensing through the State of Michigan's Bureau of Children and Adult Licensing
